

Coastal Safari Guide 2026

Best months for dolphins · Migration timing from the coast · What to pack

Kenyan coast — where ocean days meet safari mornings

Thank you for requesting this guide. Use it to plan marine days on the Kenyan coast and to link beach time with inland wildlife — Tsavo, Amboseli, or the Masai Mara.

Wasini & the coast — wild dolphin encounters

Tsavo East — famous dust-red elephants

1. Best months for dolphins & marine life

- Peak dolphin season (Wasini / Kisite): roughly November – March, when seas are often calmer and sightings more reliable.
- Snorkeling / glass-bottom: good year-round; December – March and July – October are often the clearest.
- Deep-sea fishing: strongest from about November – March off Diani and Mombasa.
- April – June: more rain possible and fewer crowds; still workable on good-weather days.

2. Great Migration timing from the coast

You do not need to start in Nairobi. Many guests combine the coast with parks inland.

Masai Mara — wildebeest & zebra river crossings (Jul–Oct)

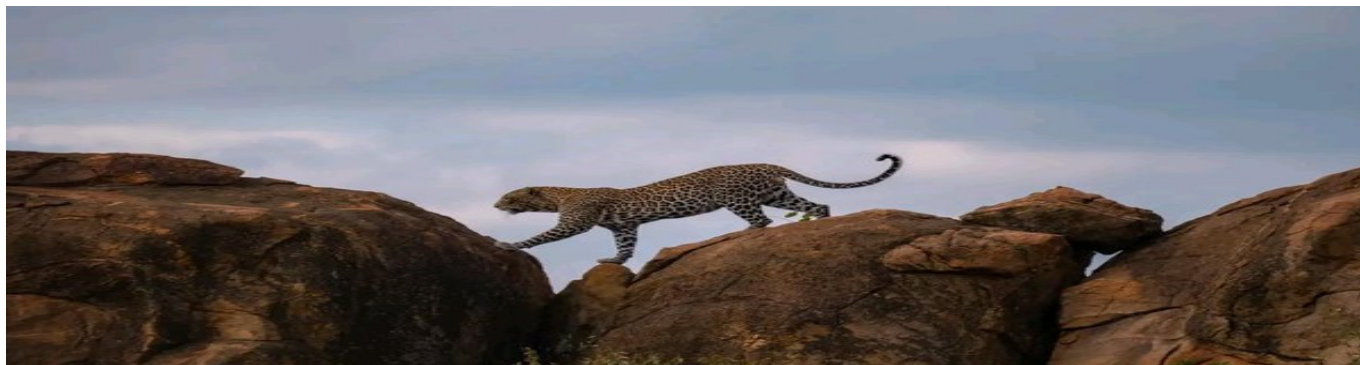

Amboseli — balloon over Kilimanjaro views

- July – October: classic Mara river-crossing period. Common route: coast (2–3 nights) → Tsavo or Amboseli → Mara.
- November – March: excellent for coast + Amboseli or Tsavo. Mara still offers strong resident game.
- Green season (April – June): lush landscapes, lower rates, fewer vehicles — ideal for photography.

3. What to pack

Coast / marine	Safari (Tsavo, Amboseli, Mara)
Light, breathable clothing Swimwear & reef-safe sunscreen Hat, sunglasses, light cover-up Waterproof bag for phone/camera Flip-flops + one pair of closed shoes	Neutral colours (khaki, olive, beige) Long sleeves/trousers for sun & insects Closed shoes; light fleece for early drives Binoculars & power bank Personal medication

Documents: passport; yellow fever certificate if required; travel insurance. A soft-sided bag is easier if you later add a light-aircraft flight to the Mara.

Big-cat country — leopard on the rocks, Kenya's national parks

4. Sample ways to combine coast + wildlife

- 3–4 days: Diani or Mombasa base + Wasini or glass-bottom boat + Old Town cultural day.
- 5–6 days: Coast + Tsavo East (red elephants) or Shimba Hills rainforest.
- 7–9 days: Coast → Tsavo or Amboseli → Masai Mara (by road or short flight).
