From the Indian Ocean coast to Kenya's wildlife parks, this guide gives you a practical starting point for choosing the right experience, travel period and safari starting price.

When to travel

Period	What to expect
January–March	Warm, generally dry conditions. Good for beach time, marine excursions and wildlife safaris.
April–May	Green season. Expect some rain, fewer visitors and lush scenery. Some activities may be affected by weather.
June–October	Excellent safari season. July–October is especially popular for the Maasai Mara migration period, while the coast remains a great time to visit.
November–December	Short rains can occur, but there are many good safari and coastal days. Festive-season travel should be booked early.
